

COME AND JOIN HABITAT FOR HUMANITY'S SOUTH ASIA "BIG BUILDS" AND TRANSFORM LIVES.

The countries of South Asia are home to a diverse range of peoples and cultures. Old and new sit side by side. New prosperity sits alongside deep poverty. For decades, Habitat for Humanity has offered a beacon of hope for families seeking to break out of the cycle of poverty. Habitat programs in Afghanistan, Bangladesh, India, Nepal, Pakistan and Sri Lanka have created new lives and dignity through new homes and communities.

In 2012, Habitat for Humanity's "Big Builds" series comes to South Asia to shine a spotlight on the need for safe, adequate, affordable housing. Three communities in three countries have been selected to showcase what is possible.

SRI LANKA: REBUILD SRI LANKA

Build peace by building homes and community

Sri Lanka is a country on the mend after three decades of civil strife, conflict and natural disasters including the 2004 tsunami. Hundreds of thousands of homes were destroyed. Habitat for Humanity works to promote reconciliation between Sinhalese, Tamil and Muslim communities, and to assist those who have been displaced and those seeking to return home. Be a Peace Builder. Join Habitat for Humanity's Rebuild Sri Lanka campaign. Be part of Habitat's plan to build sustainable, environmentally-friendly homes and assist 5,000 families every year in Sri Lanka.

After the success of the 2010 Everest Build, Habitat for Humanity invites volunteers to return to one of the most beautiful parts of the planet to build environmentally-friendly bamboo and Adobe houses. This time Habitat for Humanity is working with indigenous Dhanwar, Pariyar, and Sarki communities. Everest Build 2012 is also a celebration of the 15,000 families in Nepal who have been helped by Habitat for Humanity in the past decade and a landmark on the path to assist 100,000 families to have proper homes by 2016.

BANGLADESH: FRIENDSHIP BUILD

Build hope with families seeking new lives

The tea plantations and forests that roll across the hills of northern Bangladesh bring abundant harvests. But life can be hard for many of those who rely on seasonal work in the countryside. Habitat for Humanity is reaching out a hand of friendship to provide local workers and their families from Srimangal with the opportunity to transform their lives by providing new environmentally-friendly earth-brick homes. The Friendship Build will inaugurate a new phase in Habitat for Humanity's work in Bangladesh. After celebrating helping 3,000 families improve their living conditions in its first dozen years, Habitat now plans to serve a further 4,000 families in just three years, by 2014.

Time: December 2 to 8, 2012

Location: Sylhet (240 km. north of Dhaka)

Number of homes: 20
