

THE
Jimmy Carter
PRESIDENTIAL LIBRARY AND MUSEUM

Inspire the next generation of Habitat volunteers!

Young children and their families will not want to miss this exciting opportunity to attend a special book-signing event with President Carter and David Rubel, author of "If I Had a Hammer: Building Homes and Hope with Habitat for Humanity."

The book, written for young readers but entertaining for all ages, includes a foreword by President Carter and contains many personal anecdotes highlighting his long-standing relationship with Habitat for Humanity.

5 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 15, 2009, at the Jimmy Carter Library & Museum
441 Freedom Parkway Atlanta, GA 30307

Books will be available for purchase ($19.99) at the Jimmy Carter Library & Museum the day of the event. Other books written by the President will be on sale in the museum gift shop and may purchased and signed that day as well.

Feel free to forward this invitation to anyone who might be inspired by the story of Habitat and the Carters' volunteer work!

What other people are saying about the book!

"This is an inspiring book, telling how ideas starting on a little farm in Georgia have grown to a worldwide movement bringing people together. How? Read it!"

Pete Seeger,
American folk singer and co-writer of the song, "If I Had a Hammer."

"You have it in your power to ease suffering. Do it. You will be surprised how happy it makes you."

Ann Curry,
NBC News
